Chicago High School Teacher Steals More Than Quarter Million in Art Treasures

BELIEVED A KLEPTOMANIAC

Police Officials Declare He Is Genius and Physician Calls Him Insane

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The board of aldermen this afternoon adopted a resolution providing for an investigation of the police department in connection with the gambling scandal.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—The police in solving the $350,000 robberies performed by Jacob Foy Guthrie, former high school teacher, today faced one of the strangest criminal cases in Chicago's history. More than a quarter of a million dollars worth of art treasures and valuable jewelry had been recovered today, and the police know of nearly half that much more that the college graduate has stolen. He had not cashed any of the stolen articles, so far as the police learned, but paid his living expenses by manipulating three bank accounts and keeping a large balance to his credit by forging the name of Mrs. Ella Wilson, widow of a wealthy shirt manufacturer, to checks. Detectives said today that he had obtained $11,000 in this way.

Several theories about Guthrie have been advanced. Dr. Leslie W. Schwab, who has been the Guthrie family physician, said that the youth was periodically insane. A Pinkerton detective who worked on the forged checks said:

"Guthrie is an educated fool." Many of the police officials declared he was a genius and a kleptomaniac. Captain Halpin of the police said:

"Guthrie proves the theory that education does not prevent a natural criminal from acting upon his natural impulses. The more education he has, the more clever he is."

The boldness of Guthrie's raids upon the homes of millionaires and the discrimination he used in selecting the most valuable works of art and other articles of great value, set new records for this line of burglary in this city. When the police recovered his plunder they found nine large trunks, each packed with infinite care. Every inch of space was carefully utilized. The police counted more than 4,000 pieces among the things he had stolen.

Among them were found $50,000 worth of paintings which he obtained in one night from a wealthy south side home.

The young prisoner today conspired for more than an hour with Captain Halpin in the latter's office. He told the police officer that he did not understand his own mind.

"I had no plans when I stole all those valuable articles," said Guthrie, "and I have no plans now. I haven't even engaged a lawyer to defend me, and I will take whatever is in store for me."

"I have no idea why I stole. I always went armed when on burglary expeditions, but I never had any intention of shooting anyone. I don't believe I would have killed had I been cornered. I never even took a knife's pleasure in looking over the things I stole. I always locked them up in a trunk and put them away safely."

In one trunk opened by the police today there was about $500 worth of silk underwear. Guthrie had never worn any of it. When arrested he was wearing cheap cotton garments.

FREE WOMAN'S SLAYER

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—George R. Harkness, who shot and killed Mrs. Florence C. Hopp in the Hotel York, July 20, today was freed when a coroner's jury held that the shooting was an accident. Harkness on the morning of the killing claimed that the woman's death was the result of the accidental discharge of an automatic revolver and no amount of cross questioning today could shake him in the accident story.

The temperature ranged from 51 to 61 degrees today according to the report of the weather bureau. At noon the temperature again started to drop. Only once in the last fifteen years has the temperature been below 45 degrees during the month of August, and that was during the latter part of the month.

REBELS MAY MOVE OVER RIO GRANDE

Reported Mexicans Have Started Over Border to Loot Town of Marfa, Texas

SEND FOR A. S. TROOPS

Message Is Sent to Bring Boys in Blue to Drive Back Bandits from Border

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 5.—Two hundred Mexican rebels are reported threatening Candelaria, Texas, a small town near Valentine, and an appeal for aid has been sent to Marfa, Tex., where a detachment of United States troops is located. It is said troops will be sent to Candelaria.

The rebels on Saturday took the old town of San Antonio, opposite Candelaria, and threatened to go across and loot the American town. Several already had crossed the river when the appeal for aid was sent to Valentine.

Mexican rebels were severely defeated at Corralitos Sunday, according to refugees reaching Chihuahua, N. M., from the Casas Grandes country. The federal force of Gen. Sanjines put nearly 2,000 rebels to flight after a short engagement, and the federals are now said to be moving on the northwest railroad toward Juarez. Mormon colonists who remained behind are coming to the border. They report rebels in full possession of the Mormon colony homes.

Since the rebels proposed to cut off railroad communication with that city the marines may be isolated from their ship.

WILL FIGHT INTO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—That the Mexican rebels now preparing to evacuate Juarez intend to fire a volley across the line into El Paso, Texas, as a parting evidence of their hatred of Americans, was the rumor which Colonel Steever wired to the war department today. He said the report could not be confirmed but that an extra guard was being maintained along the border.

WITHDRAWS PLEA OF "NOT GUILTY"

Lieut. Becker Waives the Right to Plead when He Is Arraigned in Court

THREATEN DEATH TO WEBBER

Letter Signed "The Crowd" Warns Witness Not to Talk and Says Others Will Die

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, charged with procuring the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal and said to be facing three indictments charging extortion in connection with police gambling graft, withdrew his plea of not guilty today when arraigned on a charge of murder in the first degree before Judge Crain in the court of general sessions, part one. He then waived pleading. Judge Crain immediately transferred the case to Judge Mulqueen, who was in charge of the grand jury investigating the murder, and the graft charges against the police department.

Attacks Indictment

Judge Mulqueen adjourned the hearing until Wednesday when John Hart, former assistant district attorney and chief counsel for Becker, presented two motions. The first attacked the indictments of Becker on the ground that the grand jury returning it met at night, and on the further contention that the full grand jury was not present. The second motion demanded for the defendant the right to inspect the grand jury notes and also that the district attorney be compelled to endorse on the back of the indictment the names of the witnesses testifying against the police lieutenant.

There was considerable in the west side court prison when it was announced that the further examination of Webber and Vallon by Coroner Feinberg had gone over until August 19. The confessing gamblers were said to be in fear of their lives if they were compelled to go to court, and had petitioned District Attorney Whitman for an especially vigilant guard not composed of policemen.

Threaten Death

Lawyer Sullivan today was authority for the statement that "Bridge" Webber had received a letter signed "The Crowd" threatening him death if he persisted in backing up "Bald Jack" Rose.

The letter to Webber, as quoted by Sullivan, follows:

"Mr. Webber: 'In case you have any intention to live a few years more it would be advisable for you to keep your mouth shut. Don't do like Rose did. He is on our list. Whether he leaves prison or not he will die before the month is over. He and Frank Moss. Tell Vallon the same thing. You must remember you are involving some high officials and they won't stand for exposure. (Signed) 'The Crowd.'"

The letter was dated "August 2, midnight."

Frank Moss is assistant district attorney, in charge of the grand jury probe.

Word early today from Tannersville, N. Y., was that Inspector Hughes and his army of detectives still surrounded the two fugitives believed to be Lefty Louie and Gyp the Blood. It was said that parleys had been held with the men, in which they bargained for immunity in return for their evidence, but the officer refused.

It was learned today that Aaron J. Levy, attorney for Libby and Shapiro, owners of the murder car, who was said to be in Boston on learning that Lefty Louie and Big Jack Zelig were in hiding there, in reality went to tell District Attorney Whitman that Dora Gilbert, former wife of Herman Rosenthal, was ready to swear that she heard Becker order the killing of the gambler.

That the police were making no attempt to catch the alleged murderers of Rosenthal was the statement today made to District Attorney Whitman by a "runner" for many years attached to the office of Moses Sachs, a criminal lawyer.

The man who visited Whitman to make an affidavit and then was smuggled from the building, swore that yesterday he saw Sam Schepps and "Gyp the Blood" at 143rd street and Lennox avenue. When he pointed them out to two uniformed police in appointing Dr. Morrison, the "hell," and turned their backs. The man gave Whitman the numbers of the policemen and Whitman summoned them to his office.

Murder To Kill Flies or Cabbage Says Parson

DENVER, Aug. 5.—It is murder to kill a cabbage, just as it is murder to kill a man. Also, if you want to get rid of flies, don't kill them. Just get yourself in the proper state of mentality and "think them out of your house."

Discussing the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," Rev. Charles Prather gave expression to the above thoughts in a sermon here.

"Simply because the cabbage has an apparent lesser degree of consciousness than a rabbit," said the preacher, "does that entitle you to kill and eat? If so the same theory would hold good when applied to any manifestation not as fully developed as another."

"To be strictly true, one should not eat any vegetable until it had ceased to grow, until its manifestation had been fulfilled, and when that stage has been reached, it begins to decay. This is the next step beyond vegetarians. Only ripe fruits and nuts are the popular natural food for man."

"A proper attitude of mentality will free your house of flies, ants, fleas, bedbugs—not by destroying them, but by sending them out into their proper place where they belong, for everything has its place and purpose in God's universe."

DROWNING MAN REFUSES HELP

Iver Grinde Tells Comrades to Save Themselves when Boat Tips on Black River

BODY NOT YET RECOVERED

Attempt to Change Seats Throws Three in Water; Two Have Narrow Escape

Bidding his companions to save themselves, Iver Grinde sank beneath the waters of Black river yesterday afternoon while his friends reached shore in an exhausted condition, following the capsizing of a skiff. The body has not yet been recovered.

Iver Grinde, accompanied by Fred Eden and Albert Johnson, were rowing up river when in an attempt to change seats, the skiff turned over, precipitating the men into the river. Grinde after urging his companions not to attempt to save him, sank and did not again come to the surface. Grinde had the reputation of being one of the best swimmers in this part of the country.

His companions today said they were going up the Mississippi when they saw a steamer ahead which caused them to go up Black river to avoid the waves. They were opposite the Cargill elevator when the accident occurred.

The men were employed by George Holzhammer and were going to the rock quarry to prepare for the week's work. Several men have dragged the river in the vicinity of the accident but have found no trace of the body.

Mr. Grinde was 39 years of age and came here from Norway not long ago. He was a single man and has no relatives in this country.

FLORIDA GETS NO DELEGATES

Moose National Committee Seats Neither White nor Black Contestants

MISSISSIPPI WHITES WIN

Will Not Allow Colored Men from Georgia to Have Voice in the Convention

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Changing its early decision to give the contesting delegates from Florida and Mississippi seats in the national progressive convention without votes, the national provisional committee at noon today voted to throw out both delegations from Florida. That state will be without representation in the convention, according to the latest decision. In the case of the Mississippi contests, the committee voted to seat the "Lily White" delegates, but passed a resolution saying that F. F. Fridge, Mississippi committeeman, did wrong to call a convention for only white men. It was understood that the white delegates from Georgia will be seated. The final action of the committee gives the negroes neither seats nor votes.

Frances Heney of California, presented a resolution, which was adopted by the committee, providing that in the future, each state shall decide qualifications of its own delegates.

The committee approved the letter written by Roosevelt to Julian Harris upon the subject of white leadership in the south.

About the doors of the committee room at the time the decision was announced, were several of the negroes claiming to be the real Florida and Mississippi delegates, who loudly said they would not accept the decision of the committee, and said they would insist upon being allowed all the privileges of regularly seated delegates.

The Florida negro delegates decided after hearing the committee decision that they would buy admission to the convention and make a fight in the convention for their seats as delegates. Perry W. Howard of the Mississippi contests, said the negroes from his state would take the same action if the decision in their case was like that on the Florida case.

The provisional committee today seated the Lighter delegation from the first and second districts in Ohio. The contests were thrown out by the committee upon the evidence presented that the Cox machine in Cincinnati had put up the four contesting delegates. The men seated were Otto C. Lightner, A. O. Zwick, E. H. Farr and John G. Reed.

Rev. Deburgh reiterated his assertion that baseball was wrecking the nerves of the nation.

FATHER-IN-LAW OF TAFT DEAD

Judge Herron of Cincinnati Dies at Home After Three Months' Illness

EXECUTIVE'S FAMILY LEAVES

President and Wife to Leave White House to Attend Funeral Tonight

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 5.—John W. Herron, father-in-law of President Taft, died at 2 o'clock this morning at his home in Cincinnati. Judge Herron was 85 years old. He had been failing in health for several years and three months ago was confined to his bed. A sudden attack of pneumonia yesterday was the direct cause of death.

When the end seemed inevitable, messages were sent summoning his son, John W. Herron, Jr., and his oldest daughter, Mrs. Wm. Taft. His death followed, however, before the latter could prepare to leave the White house in Washington.

Until his retirement from the legal firm of Herron, Gatch, Herron & James five years ago, Judge Herron was the oldest practicing lawyer in Cincinnati. He had practiced law in Cincinnati since 1848. For fifty-two years he was a member of the board of trustees of Miami university.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The White house today received word of the sudden death of Judge John W. Herron, Mrs. Taft's father. The president and Mrs. Taft at once arranged to leave Washington tonight for the funeral.

WOMEN DELEGATES FEATURE

Women Wear Delegates' Badges and March with Pennants Asking Votes for Women

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—The national progressive party, as it is to be known, became a reality today. In the same hall where, only a few weeks ago, President Taft was renominated by the republican national convention, the stage was set today for the nomination on Wednesday of his predecessor in office, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

Regardless of political affiliation spectators admitted the convention was one of the most remarkable spectacles they said. "Aw, let em go generation. The delegates themselves and the various speakers made their keynote the hope that the new party would be a non-sectional party and that its strength would be as great in the south as in the north."

The big Coliseum was nearly full before Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, in a dark sack coat relieved only by the red, white and blue ribbon of his delegates' badge, began his keynote speech as temporary chairman. There were a few vacant seats on the top galleries, but every inch of space on the main floor was occupied. The audience was enthusiastic. Delegates and visitors early made it plain that they had come to the convention to cheer and every slight pretext for noise was freely taken advantage of. All were armed with old fashioned broad bandana of Allan G. Thurman days and the waving of the brilliant red pieces of calico added distinctly to the picturesque of the occasion.

There was great unanimity of opinion among the delegates that the party should go it alone in the various states. New York, New Jersey and Ohio flatly stated they did not intend to stand for any sort of fusion in their campaign. They planned nomination only of men enrolled in their own organization, Indiana and Illinois having already set the example with their complete tickets headed by Senator Beveridge and State Senator Funk.

Today's session was devoted entirely to the perfecting of the temporary organization and in listening to the "keynote" address of the temporary chairman.

Tomorrow will be the big day. After the permanent organization is perfected Colonel Roosevelt will personally deliver his "confession of faith" and it was universally conceded today that that document will sound the keynote in which the platform will be written.

Must Boss Repent

Whether a boss must repent in sackcloth and ashes before attaining permanence in the new national progressive party was the question put squarely up to Roosevelt when he alighted from his train here today. The straight issue presented came in the case of Timothy L. Woodruff of Brooklyn, but involved was the status of Col. Cecil Lyon of Texas, Meyer Lissner of California, and some of the other men who have attained prominence in the old days and who now plainly admit they would like to be leaders under the new dynasty.

Many of the New York delegates were prepared to protest against the elevation of Woodruff to the chairmanship of the New York state delegation. They stated that they considered Woodruff's conversion as of too recent a date to warrant him being the chairman of the delegation representing the Empire state and referred to him as "Barnes" recent chief lieutenant. He was elected through a clever piece of parliamentary tactics last Saturday at the New York state convention in Buffalo.

Fire Out Negroes

It was not alone the question of ex-bosses, however, that troubled Roosevelt on his arrival here. He had to pass on every detail of the convention arrangements which had been made to cover a three days' session. The report of the national committee which ran a reaper over the negro delegates from the south, absolutely eliminating them, was awaiting his sanction before being finally adopted. Whether his running mate was to be Gov. Hiram Johnson of California, choice of two-thirds of the delegates and all of the leaders—although Johnson himself emphatically asserts he does not want the job—or Judge Ben

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 5.—To escape forcible dissolution by the sultan's troops, the chamber of deputies passed a vote of lack of confidence in the cabinet today and adjourned without date. The chamber was a Young Turkish body and the cabinet dissolved it under pressure from the Young Turks' enemies of the military league, who want a new election in order to gain control.

The sultan ordered parliament dissolved today. The moment the decree had been read, Deputy David Bey leaped to his feet in the chamber and denounced the government's tyranny in a fiery speech. The Montenegrins and Albanians combined are following up vigorously the defeat they administered to the Turks Saturday. The Turks are retreating southward fighting. BULL MOOSE MUST HAVE STATE TICKET

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5.—The proceedings of the bull moose convention in Chicago this week will be watched with anxiety by Gov. McGovern and his friends in Wisconsin. The vital point of interest to them will be the action taken by the convention in regard to the question of putting state tickets in the field in different states.

It was the feeling among the bull moose adherents in Wisconsin that owing to the peculiar provisions of the Wisconsin election laws, it would be better not to put up a state ticket, but be content with the nomination of an electoral ticket.

The discovery, however, that if the third party is to continue to do business in coming years and get recognition on the official ballot, a state ticket would seem to be necessary, has changed their mind. To get on the official ballot a party must cast at the primaries 10 per cent of the vote cast for the nominee for governor of that party at the preceding general election.

Therefore, if the bull moose is to live for two years and come in then as a factor in the political game in Wisconsin, it will be necessary to put in a state ticket, or at least part of one, so as to have something on which to compute the necessary percentage.

FROM OHIO COAL MINES TO SECRETARY'S OFFICE IN WHITE HOUSE, HIS RISE

Rising from the coal mines of Lawrence county, Ohio, to a position of great responsibility in the nation's capital, Carmel A. Thompson, President Taft's new private secretary, has had a political career of more than ordinary interest.

Even while digging coal for a living less than 25 years ago, Thompson is said to have cherished the ambition to be secretary to the president of the United States. So he studied nights and read omnivorously, and finally worked his way through college. His rise has been rapid, and now that he has the job he wanted no one doubts but that he will make good.

"It looks like Boston. Washington has a chance, but don't count the Athletics out because they are a few games to the bad." That is the way the American league situation looks to Donnie Bush, the sensational little Detroit Tiger shortstop.

"Personally I would like to see either Boston or Washington win, because the Athletics have had two cuts at the world series melon," says Bush. "Both of them at this stage look to have a better chance than Connie Mack's team. Washington can't stay up, and if the Red Sox ever slip and the Athletics are able to cut down the lead to five or six games there is going to be a sensational finish, in my opinion."

OUTCAST PITCHER PUZZLES CASHTON

Nelson Bunch Win Easy Victory with Nally on the Mound; Score 13 to 3

With Nally, former pitcher for the Outcasts on the slab, the Nelson Clothing company had no trouble in winning an easy victory over the Cashton team by the count of 13 to 3 at Cashton yesterday.

Bunched hits won the game for the Nelsons as they found Kaiser, who did slab duty for Cashton, for a total of fifteen safe swats which were bunched in the first, fifth and ninth rounds when fierce attacks netted enough tallies to win easily.

Nally was effective at all stages and he held the hard hitting Cashton nine to five swats and they couldn't do anything with his delivery until late in the game, when he eased up a bit. With his team way in the lead he let down in the seventh and two tallies came over followed by one in the ninth. He fanned six men.

Kaiser pitched for Cashton and he proved easy for the locals who got their swats in clusters, good for many runs. They got after him in the first round when three hits netted as many tallies and in the fifth they made four hits good for a quartet of runs, while the five runs in the ninth were made on five hits.

One of the features of the combat was a home run smash by Solberg, who hit out his circuit drive with one man on the paths. Roeder clouted out a three bagger while J. Brode and Kaveney knocked out doubles. Kaveney, Micklestad and J. Brode each made three hits during the afternoon.

CAR HITS MOTORCYCLE

COLLISION ON NORTH SIDE CORNER; LAUNDRY WAGON TEAM RUNS AWAY; NO ONE HURT

In rounding the corner at St. Cloud and Caledonia street yesterday afternoon, street car No. 42 and a motorcycle had a collision. The motorcycle hit the fender of the car and was slightly damaged. Both the car and motorcycle were going around the corner at the same time and both were traveling at a low rate of speed. The motorcycle crashed into the fender and the front of the machine was smashed to some extent. Although the rider was thrown he escaped uninjured.

The breaking of the leather neckyoke which allowed the pole to drop was the cause of a runaway of the team of one of the La Crosse Steam laundry wagons Saturday. While going along Mill street the neckyoke was broken with the result that the pole would not stay in place and dropped to the street. When the driver attempted to check the horses the wagon pulled up on the horses and this frightened them so that they ran away. The horses were stopped when they slowed up to round a corner. Neither driver nor team were hurt.

York State Food Probe Declares Market System Will Reduce Price of Living

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—With the high cost of living almost hourly becoming higher, Long Island fishermen-folk advising the substitution of fish for meat and Boston recommending that the nation exist on a diet of beans, New Yorkers today were paying serious attention to an expert view of the situation. The report of the committee on markets of the New York state food investigating commission recommended that the city's $44,683,449 annual food bill might be cut down materially by a system of markets and by municipally supervised auction of foodstuffs to the jobbers and retailers.

The commission in its report stated that of the cost of food to the ultimate consumer, fully 45 per cent was for distribution; fully 20 per cent of this, or $120,000,000 annually, could easily be saved, the report asserted. Wholesalers added ten per cent and the retailers at least 30 per cent for transportation. Package goods cost about 40 per cent more than the same foodstuffs in bulk and the trading stamp added three per cent, said the experts.

MACK IS RECALLED

1908 DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN

MADE TO ANSWER QUESTIONS OF SENATE INQUIRY TODAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Norman E. Mack, who was democratic national chairman in the 1908 campaign, was recalled today before the senate investigating committee to amplify on his former testimony, in the light of definite records recently obtained by the committee.

Senator Jones wanted information why the national committee refused a $5,000 contribution from Colonel James W. Guffey, of Pennsylvania, one of the instances which Mack cited where the committee turned down money.

"Was it because he was connected with the Standard Oil company?" Jones asked.

"He may or may not have been, but the impression of people generally was that he was so connected," answered Mack.

"After the election I accepted his contribution of $5,000. The committee funds at that time were $10,000 short. If the ticket had been elected I would not have taken Col. Guffey's money. He told me it was a personal contribution."

He said the largest contribution to the 1908 fund was $10,000 given by Charles F. Murphy of New York.

Senator Clark of Montana, gave $2,000 each to the New York and Chicago headquarters.

WOMEN PLANNED COUP

REPUBLICAN GOVERNMENT OF PORTUGAL BLAMES PLANS TO RESEAT MANUEL TO WOMEN

LISBON, Aug. 5.—Out of dozens of royalists in jail here today in connection with another attempt Friday to reseat Manuel on the Portuguese throne, it was stated that the government thinks two women were the most dangerous plotters.

Only the over-talkativeness of one of them, Senorita Ludovina Rua, it is said, prevented an outbreak which might have proved a success. Senorita Rua did not depend wholly on an attack Captain Conceira was to have made from the north. Simultaneously with it, her followers were to have seized the ministers and members of parliament and with the republican government completely disorganized, Conceira would have had a good chance to win. The senorita indiscreetly told one of her men admirers, a republican, of the plan, however, and the admirer warned the government.

BLUE A BUBONIC PLAGUE FIGHTER

Surgeon General Rupert Blue.

The recent threatened invasion of this country by bubonic plague again brings into public notice Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the U. S. marine hospital service. Dr. Blue has been conducting the campaign against it.

Dr. Blue will be remembered as the man who stopped the bubonic plague in San Francisco a few years ago. He discovered the fact that rats and ground squirrels were responsible for the spread of the plague and originated a plan by which these animals were almost exterminated in the city.

MADE WILSON PRAISE WEED

Newspapers Featured Innocent Joke of Governor's and Declared He Favored Chewing

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 5.—Governor Wilson digressed from affairs of state long enough to express his views on the daily newspaper, saying:

"There ought to be some inexpensive method by which misrepresentation and false statement could be punished. I realize the difficulty of the task set for the newspapers and I recognize the sincerity of most of their efforts, yet I cannot understand some of the things they do."

"I once delivered an address in which I said that public opinion was not developed in great, congested communities, where people read a newspaper going to work on a street car and experienced a reaction which they think is opinion. I said that public opinion was developed in the cross-roads store where the farmers sat around, chewed tobacco, spit into the sawdust and exchanged ideas."

"I said jokingly that no matter what might be said against tobacco chewing, it must be admitted it made men think and that wherever you found men chewing tobacco together there you found the real, public opinion of the country."

"Imagine my horror when the newspapers the next day ignored all the rest of my address, which I had thought was not without merit and featured what I said about tobacco chewing, declaring that I said tobacco chewing made thinkers. Imagine my chagrin as I followed that story across the country. It got worse every time, until, in a Dakota paper, I was quoted to the extent of a column on the great advantages of tobacco chewing."

"And that was not the worst. A big chewing tobacco company made a photograph of one of the newspapers and printed it in its advertising. I was stamped as a college president who advocated chewing tobacco to develop the mind. Of course, I could not overtake such a story. I had no redress except under the libel laws and I doubt if the story, although untrue, was libelous."

"That's the sort of thing I think is wrong and should in some way be made impossible."

CORNERED; KILLS SELF

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 5.—Arrangements were made today by the authorities to take charge of the body of George S. Ballew, bad man who committed suicide near La Junta, Sunday after a running fight with a sheriff's posse. Ballew, who was wanted for running amuck at South Platte, Colorado, Friday night and wounding two persons, carried out his promise never to be taken alive. He ended his own life only after he had been shot twice in the back, while fleeing from the posse.

By failing to do things you don't like to do you will never accomplish much.

LID DON'T STAY DOWN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Broadway today was wondering what happened to State Excise Commissioner Farley's crusade against the festive cabaret. The heralded Sunday night "lid" might have been made of Swiss cheese, the holes in it were so noticeable, and, in its own vernacular, the great White Way last night was just as dry as a rainy day at sea.

EXCURSION TO BE BOOST FOR CITY

Merchants Prepare to Sing
Praises of La Crosse to Citizens of Winona

That the big Merchants' Protective association excursion which will leave here for Winona on the steamer Sidney at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, will not only be an outing for the merchants of the city and their families, but will be a big boost for La Crosse in an advertising way, is the statement of Harry Taggart, secretary of the association, today.

"Every man on the boat," said Mr. Taggart, "will be prepared to 'whoop her up for La Crosse' when they get to Winona, and if we don't show the business men of that city that the La Crosse merchants are a live bunch, I miss my guess. We will have three or four hours in the up-river city to renew old acquaintances and to form new friendships. The merchants of this city are known as good mixers and not a bit backward in singing the praises of good old La Crosse, and when we get to Winona nobody will need to ask where we came from."

Judging from the crowds that have attended the merchants' excursions in the past, the last two of which were to Lansing, Iowa, the Sidney will have a full passenger list when she slips away from the dock here Monday morning. The boat is expected to pull into Winona at about 1 o'clock and stay until 4 or 4:30, returning to La Crosse at 7:30. Music will be furnished by the boat's orchestra for those who desire to dance. It has been decided by the committee that no drinks other than non-intoxicants will be sold on the boat. It is expected that the excursionists will either take their lunches with them or eat dinner in Winona.

MOOSEVELTIANS MEET IN FIRST BIG CONVENTION

Lindsay of Denver, Luke Wright of Tennessee, General J. H. McDowell of New Orleans had to be decided so that the nominating speeches might be prepared. The platform, too, was still very much in the air. Roosevelt's profession of faith, which it was admitted embodied everything that he desired embraced in the resolutions, was, in certain parts, more radical than many of the Roosevelt leaders believed it should be. It was reported that George W. Perkins would urge the endorsement of a currency plan designed to strike a course midway between the plan endorsed at Baltimore and the one advocated in the republican platform.

Delegates Ruralites

The scenes about the convention hall and the hotel lobbies today were in striking contrast to those witnessed in June when the republican convention was in session. The very men were different. Ruralites predominated in the crowds. All were admittedly hopeful. But the majority frankly admitted they knew little about the routine of conventions.

The national committee resumed its work on the temporary roll shortly after 9 o'clock today and as soon as the Roosevelt O. K. was in effect it was expected the list of delegates would be certified to the convention.

Crowd Meets Colonel.

Colonel Roosevelt and his party arrived here on the Twentieth Century limited at 8:55 this morning. A crowd of 5,000 persons filled the station and crowded the streets just outside. Wild cheering greeted the colonel as he passed through the station, and a demonstration started when he stepped onto the sidewalk to get in an automobile and proceeded to the Congress hotel.

In arranging the trip from the station, the committee stole a march on the big crowd waiting in the street. The colonel was hurriedly side entrance into the automobile court and whisked away with only about half the crowd getting a glimpse of him. The machines went to Michigan avenue, and thence to the hotel, where a large crowd had filled the street and sidewalks. The colonel's automobile was run up and down the street to give the crowd a chance to see Roosevelt.

Standing in the auto, the colonel made a short speech to the crowd. As Roosevelt pushed through the crowd and into the hotel, a band played "Oh, You Beautiful Doll." The colonel went to temporary quarters arranged for him by Senator Dixon, until he can move into the presidential suite, where the provisional national committee was holding its meeting today.

No Crowd Appears

There was practically no crowd about the doors when they were opened at 11 o'clock. The majority of the state delegations were holding meetings in the hotel, and the promised avalanche of spectators failed to materialize.

The hall was decorated in red and white and blue bunting. Pictures of Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson were arranged above the stage. The only trouble was that an over zealous decorator, with little regard for the historical properties, had labeled Jefferson "Jackson."

A big picture of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was draped in solitary grandeur over the rear end of the hall directly under the bandstand. Otherwise the arrangements were about the same as for the republican convention.

While the delegates and spectators were slowly filing into their seats, the New York delegation was holding a stormy caucus at which it flatly placed the new party in the Empire state squarely on record against any fusion.

The meeting was an adjourned state convention held over from last Saturday's Buffalo gathering and the resolution adopted declared that no person should be nominated for legislative or executive office in New York who was not regularly enrolled in the progressive party.

At 11:47 the Pennsylvania delegation headed by a "Hat in the Ring" banner, marched into the hall. This was the first of the state delegations to arrive and soon all of the other state representatives were headed hallward. Maryland and Oregon came in singing and then came Kentucky, with three negroes in the delegation. There was a picturesque touch of color to the convention lent by the bright scarlet and white bandanas which everyone carried in their hand or wore festooned about their hats, their necks or arms.

As the seats filled up a Grand Army life and drum corps in uniform with three big silk American flags held by Boy Scouts took up positions in the front of the stage, and rattled out some stirring war tunes which set feet tapping, and aroused the enthusiasm of the delegates. At this time the galleries were only about one-third full, but nearly all of the seats on the floor were filled and the aisles were so jammed that locomotion was impossible.

One feature of the day came when women, ranging in age from girls of 16 to a very aged woman too feeble to walk, and who rode in an automobile, marched from the Art institute to the convention hall. The women were warmly greeted all along the route. All carried big yellow pennants bearing the slogan "Votes for Women."

Called to Order.

It was just 12:45 when Senator Dixon rapped for order and nodded to the sergeant at arms who through a megaphone ordered the delegates to take their seats.

The Montana senator then took his place and three minutes later the first session of the convention had begun.

He introduced Secretary O. K. Davis, who read the official call for the convention. As the various names of men have been mentioned for the vice presidency were read off by Secretary Davis from the official call they were warmly cheered and it was plain that there was no lack of second place timber among the delegates. The names of Governor Johnson of California; Judge Lindsay of Colorado; James R. Garfield of Ohio, and Senator Dixon were very warmly greeted by the delegates.

Rev. Dornsbazler of the German Lutheran church of Chicago, was then introduced and offered the opening invocation which he read from a manuscript while the delegates stood in devout attitude.

Beveridge Takes Chair

It was 1:27 when Senator Dixon named Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana as the temporary chairman and named Gov. Johnson of California; Governor Vessey of South Dakota, and Senator Funk of Illinois as the committee to escort Beveridge to the platform.

The first evidence of the moose call came when Beveridge mentioned the game of President Taft in connection with Payne-Aldrich tariff law. Led by "Bill" Flinn and the Pennsylvania delegation there came a united "Moo-o-o-o" which spread through all of the state delegations. When Beveridge referred to the fact that the progressives planned to pass laws creating a minimum wage for women he was warmly applauded.

The entire section of his address dealing with the women worker question was well received and the sentiment warmly applauded. A moment later, when the speaker declared for women suffrage there was an ovation in both the men and women in the galleries joined heartily with the delegates.

ATHLETES WIN AND 'LOSE AT LYNXVILLE

The Athletes won and lost in two games with Lynxville at Lynxville, the locals taking Saturday's game 2 to 0 when Fuchsel allowing but one hit while Lynxville turned on Sunday and captured the battle by a 9 to 2 count. By winning Saturday's game the Athletes took two out of three games with Lynxville.

Fuchsel, the Athletes' star south-paw, was invincible Saturday with the result that Lynxville could do nothing with his delivery, but one scratch hit being made off him. He fanned twelve batters. But one ball was hit to the outfield so well was Fuchsel working and the Athletes accorded him faultless support. This combination was too much for Lynxville and they went down to defeat. Denny Hastings was on the slab for Lynxville and he was found for nine hits. Score: R H E
Athletes . . . 001000100—2 9 0
Lynxville . . . 000000000—0 1 1
Batteries: Fuchsel and Childers; Hastings and Withey.

Sunday's Game
Lynxville put up a great game on Sunday and they pounded out a 9 to 2 victory, knocking Anderson out of the box in the sixth round. Hackner succeeding him.

Hastings played second base for Lynxville yesterday and in the third round with two men on the bases he pounded out a home run which brought in three tallies. When Lynxville bunched swats in the sixth frame for five tallies they cinched the combat as the Athletes could make but two runs during the game.

Copsey, who occupied the slab for Lynxville, twirled a steady game, holding the Athletes to six swats and he was not in danger of being scored on often.

The score: R H T
Lynxville . . . 130005000—9 7 2
Athletes . . . 000020000—2 6 4
Batteries: Copsey and Withey; Anderson, Hackner and Childers.

An Alarm
Clock for $1.00

If other merchants had never exaggerated, our dollar alarm clock would not be noticeable. We've said little in the papers about it, but over the counter we always tell wherein it excels every other make at the price. And with us there's just as much dignity in selling an alarm clock as a diamond ring, for accuracy always serves us better than invention.

Chicago Grain Letter

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Light world's shipments and wet weather in the northwest were bullish influences at the opening today, but the enormous receipts in St. Louis checked the buying, and prices fell off until they went below Saturday's finals.

Corn also had a setback and prices were lower.

Oats responded to the bearish influences in the other grains and prices were lower today than on Saturday.

Provisions opened strong, but sold off later in the day.

STATE SUES ESTATE FOR AUTO BILL

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 5.—The federal courts must determine the quarrel between the states of Iowa and Michigan over the expenses incurred by the former in removing by automobile from Centerville, Iowa, to Bay City, Michigan, of Herman Hirschfeldt, a leper, who ran away from Michigan and was located later in Iowa. The railroads refused to allow the leper on trains and the Iowa state board of health had him taken back to Michigan by automobile. A bill was presented to Michigan for the expenses of bringing the leper home and payment was refused.

The Iowa state board of health instructed Attorney General Cosson to bring suit against the state of Michigan to recover the expenses of the automobile trip.

PHILLIES' CRACK SLABMEN ARE ILL

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—Consternation reigns in the Philadelphia National league club as a result of Pitcher Brennan developing a case of diphtheria and being quarantined. Not only will this prevent him from taking part in any games for some time, but Grover Cleveland Alexander, the mainstay of Doolin's pitching staff, who has been living with Brennan, may also be affected. The disablement of these two stars, admittedly the best pitchers the club possesses, will materially affect their chances of remaining in the first division.

The Browns tried four pitchers, but Plank won for the champs. Old Cy Young bid his final farewell to baseball when he was knocked out of the box in a local game in Cincinnati yesterday.

SPLIT EVEN ON PLAY FOR TITLE

Summits and Clothiers Divide Double-header by Scores of 6 to 2 and 14 to 1

One of the largest crowds that has seen a baseball game in this city for a long time saw the Summits and the Clothing company nines split a double header at League park yesterday, the Clothiers winning the first combat of 6 to 2 while the Summits handed the champions an awful defeat to the tune of 14 to 1 in the second. The even split in these two games makes necessary the playing of a third game next Sunday to determine the winner.

Bartels, on the slab for the Clothiers, was in great form and he allowed the Summits but three bingles in the first game which he won, 6 to 2. He fanned thirteen men and gave his opponents but few chances to scores, his twirling being one of the features of the game. Blank was his opponent and he did some excellent slugging but errors in his support allowed the Clothiers to count several of their tallies.

Ritter, who umpired the combats, came in for some severe roasting at the hands of the crowd who did not take kindly to his decisions most of which they considered to be against the Summits. They seemed to be justified in their opinion. In one inning he called one of the Clothiers safe at third when the runner was tagged many feet off the bag. This looked to be a rank decision then as well as on his calling of strikes and balls which seemed to be equally poor.

Bettin made three of the hits gathered by the Summits while Horn starred at shortstop for the north side team. Griffin, Ulrich and Hess were the heavy hitters for the Clothiers. Score of first game:

Clothiers . . . 10002030x—6 10 2
Summits . . . 000000110—2 4 5
Batteries: Bartels and Griffin; Blank and Oeltjendier.

Second Game
The second game was a walk-away for the Summits who ran up a score of 14 to 1 and who hit three pitchers hard before the combat was ended. Bell was the star of this game and it was his effective pitching and his timely hitting which gave the Summits their victory and evened up the series.

The Summits put up a wonderful game in the second battle and plainly demonstrated their superiority. They got after Chalsma, who started ed in hurling for the champs, from the start but he escaped for two innings. However, in the third they bumped him hard, three two baggers, a pass and an error netting them four runs. They forced Chalsma to retire in the sixth when they pounded the ball for five runs. Bartels then went to the slab but his delivery was slammed to all corners of the lot in the seventh when five more tallies came in and Kane went in to pitch the eighth inning.

Bell pitched one of the best games seen here for a long time and the Clothiers could get but five hits off him. In the seventh a double and a single were bunched for the only tally for the champions during the afternoon. In only one round was Bell in danger and that was the third, when an error, a hit batsman and a pass filled the bags with only one out. Bell gave a great exhibition then by causing Pederson to pop up to Horn and by retiring the side when Kabat grounded out to him. In batting Bell was also a star, getting two doubles all of which figured in the scoring. His double in the fifth was most timely as it came with the bases full and sent three runs over the pan.

The Summits' batting was opportunistic, the batters all hitting the ball with men on the bases in the third, fifth and seventh innings when batting bees netted the north side club their tallies. Score: R H E
Summits . . . 00405050x—14 10 2
Clothiers . . . 000000100—1 5 6

FORGER ARRESTED AFTER BIG CHASE

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—A man alleged to be known as Harry Brown, Patrick Foley and Phillip C. Deall was arrested after a desperate chase through downtown streets, and is being held by detectives who charge him with forgeries amounting to $11,000. All of the alleged forged checks, the detectives allege were drawn against the account of Mrs. Ella Wilson, widow of E. Crane Wilson, who owned furnishing stores in several cities in this country, in London, Paris, Berlin and other European cities. The detectives say he was able to manipulate his scheme to draw checks over her signature because Mrs. Wilson is away, traveling in Japan.

When caught by a private detective who has been working on the case, Brown broke away from his captor and quickly out-distanced him by running through the lobby of the Chamber of Commerce building. A mounted policeman and several uniformed men took up the chase and caught him after several blocks in the Loop district had been covered.

The Tigers bunched their hits and licked the Yanke in a quick action rally.

GOSSETT AND JOHNSON, RECENTLY SOLD TO SOX, STAR BATTERY WESTERN LEAGUE

Chief Johnson and John Gossett.

John Gossett and George ("Chief") Johnson comprise the star battery of the Western league, according to sport writers of the circuit, and their recent sale to the Chicago White Sox is a just promotion to each. Gossett, the catcher, is the younger of the two men. He is twenty-two years old and a star in every respect, except hitting. Chief Johnson is serving his third year with St. Joseph and his fifth year in the Western league. The acquisition of a good spitball has converted him from a fair twirler to a star.
